Liul Koroiyale - Children's Design

We are proud to announce that Liul Koroiyale, a second grader at Longfellow Elementary, is the winner of the 2013 Sweet Pea Children's T-Shirt Art Contest. His winning design features sweet pea flowers rising from a top hat surrounded by stars. While the flowers inspired him to create the design, he said that he added the hat to make it more magical. Liul enjoys art and drawing, especially drawing cars. When not creating winning t-shirt designs - which his mother notes will make great Christmas read more.

Artist Spotlight: Jerry Douglas

During the cool summer nights in early August, many sounds can be heard coming from Lindley Park - families laughing, music, cheering, and people having a great time. On Saturday night, August 3rd at 8pm, a bluegrass sound will fill the Bozeman air; that of 13-time Grammy Award winner Jerry Douglas.

After attending a Flatt and Scruggs concert at the young age of 8, Douglas picked up the Dobro and never looked back. He has since played on over 2000 albums for a plethora of artists including Garth Brooks, Ray Charles, Phish, Elvis Costello, John Folgerty, Emmylou Harris, Dolly Parton and many more. His talents have lead him to scoring a movie - Get Low starring Robert Duvall, Sissy Spacek, and Billy Murray, playing on the "O Brother, Where Art Thou?" soundtrack and its spinoff live disc Down from the Mountain", and "becoming the co-Music Director of the BBC TV series Transatlantic Sessions".

While Douglas has played with many bands and co-founded one ("Boone Creek Boys with Ricky Skaggs"), his solo career has been nothing short of impressive. His 14th album, Traveler, was just released, he was the recipient of the 2011 Annual American Honors and Awards coveted Lifetime Achievement Award for Instrumentalist, and has been the Country Music Association Musician of the Year three times. While playing solo has worked well for him, you can still find Douglas playing with Alison Kraus & Union Station, of which he has been a member of since 1998.

We are happy to have Jerry Douglas perform on the Main Stage on August 3rd and hope to see you all there!

In her own words:
As a native
Montanan, Bozeman has always been a part of my life; from my first recollection of staying at the Imperial Motel on a ski trip in the 60's to my move to Bozeman in 2010. My husband Mark, daughter Caitlyn, and I have lived and worked throughout the United States and overseas, always finding time to come home to Montana in the summer. Many of those trips home included taking in the Sweet Pea Festivals where we have enjoyed music and the activities in all kinds of weather.

The variety of dance, music, the arts and crafts show, along with the Sweet Pea Parade are all parts of our Montana summer fun.

While driving on Rouse in the summer of 2012, I read the Hawthorne School sign asking for Sweet Pea volunteers. Since I have always enjoyed the Festival and had a couple of weeks free before heading back to work in Saudi, I called the Sweet Pea office and signed up. What fun it was to work with so many dedicated people! Upon returning to Bozeman on a full-time basis, I signed up to work on the Board with Children's Activities and to help bring about many more delightful Festivals in Bozeman.

About Sweet Pea Festival

Now in its 36th year, the Sweet Pea Festival remains true to its original vision of celebrating the arts. Its mission: promote and cultivate the arts. This is accomplished by being funded almost entirely from the admissions sales of Festival attendees. There is limited corporate sponsorship and commercialism in the park during the Festival. The event happens because of over 600 volunteers who create a truly outstanding event. All money raised above what is needed to operate the Festival is given back to the community in the form of grants for the arts, art education, and special projects in the Bozeman area. For more information on the Festival, visit www.sweetpeafestival.org.
