SWEET
PEA'22

A Festival of the Arts

Welcome to Sweet Pea Festival 2022

45 years!

We couldn't be more excited to invite you to enjoy the Sweet Pea Festival with us in 2022. I remember when I was a college student here in the early '80s. I mostly enjoyed dancing to the headline bands on Friday and Saturday nights. Then, as my wife Kristi and I raised our kids here, we had so much fun making projects out of wood (the tap, tap, tap of hammers and nails still echoes through the trees), listening to storytellers, and watching family stage entertainers juggle, clown around, and get us all giggling. Now it's a time for us to bring our family back to Bozeman for all the arts and crafts, amazing Shakespeare performances, and to relax with a picnic in the shade and listen to the sounds of happy people. This is a special tradition that has become such a part of the fabric of this amazing Bozeman community. I want to thank the scores of people on our committees, executive director, board, and the volunteers who keep this show rolling on. It takes thousands of hours of hard work to pull this off and we have new folks and dedicated volunteers who have been helping for decades. Cheers to the next 45 years!

Dave Crawford

Sweet Pea Board President

Thanks to our Board & Committee members for their hard work and commitment to Sweet Pea 2022:

2022 Poster Design Winner Emily Johnson

I was born and raised in beautiful Bozeman, and have attended many Sweet Pea Festivals. As a student in the Bozeman education system, I had many opportunities to take a variety of different art classes. These courses helped me develop a love for painting, drawing, and creating. I graduated from Bozeman High School in 2015 and went to Montana State University to get my degree in nursing. I married my wonderful husband after college and moved to Washington state. I currently work in the Intensive Care Unit and am passionate about helping other people.

Emily will be signing posters on Saturday, August 6, from 1:00-3:00 in front of the Merchandise Tent.

In my free time you can find me outside, enjoying one of my many hobbies such as mountain biking, skiing, hiking, or camping. I feel very honored to be this year's poster contest winner!

Whether this is your first Sweet Pea Festival or your 45th,

We are so glad you're here!

And we hope it will continue to be your summer tradition. If you just moved here, welcome to this amazing community you are now a part of. We know you'll embrace what is special about Bozeman and we believe our community will continually remind you why you chose this special place to call home.

Lindley Park is where Sweet Pea calls home; it has been host to most of our 45 Festivals...45?! OMG, Sweet Pea is middle aged! We are just five years away from another milestone—our 50th Festival! And Sweet Pea, just like you and me, looks ahead and wonders where we will be and what we will be doing when that next milestone hits. Getting older presents new challenges, but also gives us more experience to deal with them, and that experience then presents us with new opportunities.

Bozeman is a changing and growing community, bringing us challenges, but also giving us opportunities like new restaurants, new places to see art and hear performances, and new neighbors. Our love of the outdoors, the land and its beauty, the amazing wildlife, and Yellowstone just outside our back door, are just some of the things that make our community so special. The traditions that have gone on for generations, like waving to your neighbor as you walk or drive by, holding the door open for anyone and everyone, saying hi to people along the trails and on the street, and Sweet Pea Festival, are all part of what makes Bozeman, well, Bozeman.

Sing, dance, and celebrate all that is the arts with those sitting around you. Make new friends, continue old traditions, and remember, the more things change the more they stay the same.

AGES 16+

A man sits peacefully reading in the sunlight in Central Park. There enters a second man. He is a young, unkempt, and undisciplined vagrant where the first is neat, ordered, well-to-do and conventional. The vagrant is a soul in torture and rebellion. He longs to communicate so fiercely that he frightens and repels his listener. He is a man drained of all hope who, in his passion for company, seeks to drain his companion. With provocative humor and unrelenting suspense, the young savage slowly, but relentlessly, brings his victim down to his own atavistic level as he relates a story about his visit to the zoo.

They found widespread success in 2006, with their GRAMMY-nominated soundtrack to the hit film Little Miss Sunshine. ## Kiltro

Denver, CO via Valparaiso, Chile

SATURDAY 3:00 PM • THE BOWL

Kiltro is the brainchild of singer/songwriter Chris Bowers Castillo. Conceived in the lively bohemian port city of Valparaiso, Chile, Kiltro draws much of its thematic energy from Latin-American folk artists, making for an emotive and stylistically unique merging of genres. Their debut album, Creatures of Habit, seamlessly weaves ambient textures with looping guitars, Andean Folk, flashes of shoegaze, and lively percussion. Kiltro has created a fascinating world somewhere between familiar and foreign: A large splash of acoustic picking, a smidge of ambient psychedelia, and a dash of groove-worthy funk to get you up and moving.

Kaleta & Super Yamba Band

Brooklyn, NY via Lagos, Nigeria

SATURDAY 4:30 PM • THE BOWL

Brooklyn's Kaleta & Super Yamba Band are fronted by Afrobeat and Juju veteran Leon Ligan-Majek, a.k.a. Kaleta. Kaleta got his start in the late 70s performing in church and was soon picked up by iconic Juju master and world music pioneer King Sunny Ade. A few years later Fela Kuti came calling and Kaleta would go on to tour the world, playing guitar for the King of Afrobeat in his storied band, Egypt 80, through the 1980s and into the 1990s.

Kaleta has been touring with Super Yamba since 2017. Their debut album, Mèdaho, draws on the group's shared reverence for the raw, psychedelic sounds that captivated Kaleta as a music-loving child. The album was included on Bandcamp's "Best Albums of Summer 2019" list, and two of the songs were chosen for the ABC/Hulu series High Fidelity. They have performed with a diverse range of artists such as David Byrne, Rubblebucket, Yeasayer, and have collaborated with Senegalese Griot and talking drum master, Mood Mbenge, known best for his work with African pop star Abdou Guite Seck. It's not often the Northern Rockies get a chance to see an act like this, so don't miss this one!

Railroad Earth

SATURDAY 8:00 PM • THE BOWL

Stillwater, NJ

For over two decades, Railroad Earth has captivated audiences with gleefully unpredictable live shows and eloquent and elevated studio outputs. And now we get them for our Saturday night main stage headliner! Between selling out hallowed venues such as Red Rocks, they've launched the longstanding annual Hangtown Music Festival and Hillberry: The Harvest Moon Festival, both running for more than a decade. Beyond tallying tens of millions of streams, the collective has earned widespread critical acclaim from David Fricke of Rolling Stone, American Songwriter, Glide Magazine, and NPR who assured, "Well-versed in rambling around, as you might expect from a band named after a Jack Kerouac poem, the New Jersey-built jam-grass engine Railroad Earth has let no moss grow under its rustic wheels." This year they recorded their seventh studio album, All for the Song, produced by Anders Osborne. It might've been the gumbo, but the guys seamlessly absorbed the home-grown flavors of the Big Easy by osmosis, incorporating horns, blues harmonica, and the producer's own perspective and guitar-playing. It's no wonder these guys are headlining bluegrass, jam, and rock and roll festivals across the country all summer long!

Black Joe Lewis & The Honeybears

Austin, TX

SATURDAY 6:00 PM • THE BOWL

Black Joe Lewis & the Honeybears have been laying down some nasty blues and funk since 2007. Esquire magazine had them as a top ten must-see band at SXSW in 2009, and their wild performances vaulted them into all the major festivals such as Bonnaroo, Wakarusa, Outside Lands, Sasquatch, Coachella, and Bumbershoot. Their 2017 release Backlash saw them hit #3 on Billboard's R&B chart. Their newest album, This is The Difference Between Me & You, was sonically inspired by hill country blues, cowpunk, and the southern soul of Stax. Influenced by Lewis' first decade on the road, the album embodies a deep repertoire of sounds drawing from the heavy grooves of Albert King, the punked-up blues of R.L. Burnside, and the soulfully layered horns of the Rolling Stones. And yes, in the bar scene of recent Marvel blockbuster The Eternals, that is Black Joe Lewis singing one of his most popular songs, "Sugarfoot."

SUNDAY

STiLGONE

Bozeman, MT

SUNDAY 12:00 PM • THE BOWL

Kicking things off on Sunday are locals STiLGONE, who play a unique fusion of genres, spanning funk, soul, hip hop, reggae, psychedelic rock, and more. Despite covering so many styles, they manage to create a cohesive sound that is uniquely their own. Their live shows are an immersive trip through detailed soundscapes and danceable grooves. They have opened for such acts as Deltron 3030, Nappy Roots, Kyle Hollingsworth Band, and Michal Menert. In 2021, after a multi-year hiatus, the band reformed and have taken their live performances to yet another interstellar level.

Amanda Anne Platt & The Honeycutters

Asheville, NC

SUNDAY 1:30 PM • THE BOWL

The music of Amanda Anne Platt & The Honeycutters is nuanced, bringing insight and wit to the stories Platt tells through songwriting. Lyrically driven, the band's country roots music often inspires introspection, whether it be about life on the road, heartache, or hope. There is an empathetic and charming wit ingrained in Platt's songwriting. She has a knack for accessing a deep well of emotion and applying it to her storytelling, whether she is writing from her own experiences or immersing herself into the melody of emotions in another person's life. They have graced the stage at Vancouver Folk Music Festival, Folk Alliance International, Mountain Stage, AmericanaFest, and MerleFest, to name a few. In 2016, they were featured on NPR's World Cafe: Sense of Place Asheville. Amanda has one of those voices that may harken to the younger days of Lucinda Williams and Brandi Carlisle, but she truly has something special that is all her own.

Houndmouth

New Albany, IN

SUNDAY 3:00 PM • THE BOWL

Houndmouth and their unique mix of indie, roots, rock, and blues formed in the summer of 2011. They found themselves at SXSW music festival in 2012 and in 2013 their debut album, From the Hills Below the City, was released which led to performances on Letterman, Conan, World Cafe, and several major festivals. SPIN and Esquire.com named Houndmouth a "must-see band" at Lollapalooza. Their new album, Good For You, is a collection of songs set in places as far-flung as the Alamo and the Hudson River, each populated by a motley cast of characters—from fairy-tale princesses and vampires to parking-lot lovers and wanna-be beauty queens—resulting in a lovingly-gathered catalogue of those wild and fleeting moments that stay lodged in our hearts forever. Fresh off a sold-out tour playing with Rainbow Kitten Surprise, this is another Sweet Pea performance you will look back upon and say, "I saw them back before they were huge!"

Sweet Pea Unplugged

Stop by the Beer & Wine Garden during the late afternoon/early evening intermissions at The Bowl and enjoy some of Bozeman's very own musical talents for short "Unplugged Sets" under the trees. See page 27 for hours and details.

Montana Mural Project

Highlighting Our Threatened & Endangered Species Through Art

Modeled after the highly successful New York Audubon Society Project, Craighead Institute, with support from the Sweet Pea Festival, is commissioning artists to paint murals of the following Montana plant and animal species: Black-footed Ferret, Canada Lynx, Grizzly Bear, Bull Trout, Pallid Sturgeon, White Sturgeon, Least Tern, Piping Plover, Whooping Crane, Water Howellia, Spalding's Campion, and Ute Ladies'-tresses.

Below are the murals that have been completed. This year all donations received through Give Big went directly to this project. We are still looking for donations to help finish this project. Businesses interested in hosting a mural on a wall or large garage door of their building, or businesses interested in a specific subject for their mural will be able to donate or bid for their request. For more information please contact ed@sweetpeafestival.org or april@craigheadinstitute.org.
